“ I have already sent a message, also wanted to share a memory from school for her kids to read. Angel always sat behind me in third or fourth grade. One day I was not feeling well, and Angel asked me if she should tell the teacher that I was not feeling well and I told her yes. And she did. It was this kind of concern and care that she always showed, not only to myself, but to all her classmates and friends. That care will always be remembered. And even though I had not talked to her in years, I still asked around to see how she was doing, when I found out about her being ill. All the best to her kids and family. My thoughts are with you all. --Chris Williams. Sandoval, IL.

“ Gidget I am so saddened by the news. You were such a great person. Even more so you were a wonderful mother and a great friend! I had so many great times that I will cherish every day. My heart sank the day you called me and told me the dreaded news and I hated that you were so far away. I was so happy the day that you came back and I'm glad that I got to see you when you got back home. I just wish that I could have gotten to see you one final time. The timing was always really bad because you was very sick and not feeling well and I didn't want to bother you. You were always in my heart and will be every day. I'm glad that you aren't in pain anymore and having to live with that horrible thing called cancer. RIP Gidget love and miss you forever and always!

“ Gidget, I hope you are flying high with Michael, Robin & Richard. It took me a few days to realize that I was being selfish by holding on and praying for you not to go. I witnessed something that finally made me realize that I had to let you go. I wish you peace and happiness, something you've been missing out on for a long time. No good bye's here, you know that! I'll see you on the other side! I love you and I certainly am going to miss you terribly, but of you're in peace then so am I. I love you. Don't be worrying about your kids because your wonderful, caring & loving mother will guide them into becoming wonderful just like you! Sending prayers to all family & friends. RIP Gidget and remember , nobody puts baby in the corner!
