“ Jack and I were in high school at the same time. He was a little older than me so I didn't know him well. We became better friends many years later and shared memories and ham and beans several times. Once he forgot to make cornbread so I showed him how to make fried cornbread. It was common when I was growing up because my mother didn't want to heat up the house in hot weather. I'm in Kentucky now and people make fried cornbread a lot.

My condolences to Jack's family. He was a good guy and a great friend. I'm so sorry for your loss.
