“ John Oettle was one of the first people I met when moving to Salem, IL. He was an honorable man with a dry sense of humor. His personal observations were extremely logical and he understood that peoples' ability to reach a balanced conclusion is most often colored by emotion. A simple change of direction in the conversation would often turn the angry person into a happy customer. It turned me into a loyal and an heartbroken friend who will miss the glint in his eye and the growl in his voice. Goodbye my friend; thank you for taking the time to pass this way. You made our lives so much better.
