“ I have so many memories of Uncle J. He was the one who took the time to teach me how to solder copper pipe and to do my own plumbing. I enjoyed plumbing so much after that, I made a career out of it. The many summers that I helped bale hay and stack it in the barn. I'm going to miss him calling me Kyro or when I was younger it was Kyro-be-in-fisherman. I will always remember the sweet smell of the swisher sweets that he would smoke while we were doing some kind of work. I sure thought the world of Uncle J, and I sure am going to miss him. I love you uncle J.
