“ What i will remember most about her is she was always so giving. Many times ordering pizza for the whole 3rd shift and never taking anything in return. But most of all is how she took care of her residents. If someone needed a fan, Pat bought it and with her own money. If they needed any supplies because Murray Center ran out or didn't order enough then Pat was off to Walmart getting what they needed. She never got any recognition for any of it but that's not why she did it. She did it because she genuinely loved the people she cared for. It's only my personal opinion but i feel after she left the residents suffered a great loss. RIP Pat.
