“Rodger started out as a friend who always was able to fix my daughter's car..(Ashley Sloat Fuqua). He became a family friend and when he had his accident several yrs back, we all were in shock. We tried to follow his progress. The last time any of our family saw him was at his mother's visitation at Garnier. He was so much thinner than we remembered him by and he had no idea who any of us were. That made us sad but glad to see him up and walking. I don't know what finally happened to have him leave this world and meet Jesus but I hope he was not in pain. I used to care for his great nephews, Ryan and Josh Williams. Our prayers to all of you. It was a pleasure knowing him. I have pictures of him when we would have cookouts at our home.
